LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 25th October 1939.

No. 4/VI/39-P.—The following Statutes are republished for general information:—

The Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939.

CHAPTER 62.

An Act to confer on His Majesty certain powers which it is expedient that His Majesty should be enabled to exercise in the present emergency; and to make further provision for purposes connected with the defence of the realm.

[24th August, 1939.]

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Defence Regulations.

1.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, His Majesty may by Order in Council make such Regulations (in this Act referred to as "Defence Regulations") as appear to him to be necessary or expedient for securing the public safety, the defence of the realm, the maintenance of public order and the efficient prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged, and for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred by the preceding subsection, Defence Regulations may, so far as appears to His Majesty in Council to be necessary or expedient for any of the purposes mentioned in that subsection,—

(a) make provision for the apprehension, trial and punishment of persons offending against the Regulations, and for the detention of persons whose detention appears to the Secretary of State to be expedient in the interests of the public safety or the defence of the realm;

(b) authorise—

(i) the taking of possession or control, on behalf of His Majesty, of any property or undertaking;

(ii) the acquisition, on behalf of His Majesty, of any property other than land;

(c) authorise the entering and search of any premises; and

(d) provide for amending any enactment, for suspending the operation of any enactment, and for applying any enactment with or without modification.

(3) Defence Regulations may provide for empowering such authorities, persons or classes of persons as may be specified in the Regulations to make orders, rules and byelaws for any of the purposes for which such Regulations are authorised by this Act to be made, and may contain such incidental and supplementary provisions as appear to His Majesty in Council to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of the Regulations.

(4) A Defence Regulation, and any order, rule or byelaw duly made in pursuance of such a Regulation, shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any enactment other than this Act or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any enactment other than this Act.

(5) Nothing in this section shall authorise the imposition of any form of compulsory naval, military or air force service or any form of industrial conscription, or the making of provision for the trial by courts martial of persons not being persons subject to the Naval Discipline Act, to military law or to the Air Force Act.

(6) In this section the expression "enactment" includes any enactment of the Parliament of Northern Ireland.

Power to impose charges.

2.—(1) The Treasury may by order provide for imposing and recovering, in connection with any scheme of control contained in or authorised by Defence Regulations, such charges as may be specified in the order; and any such order may be varied or revoked by a subsequent order of the Treasury.

(2) Any charges recovered by virtue of such an order as aforesaid shall be paid into the Exchequer of the United Kingdom or, if the order so directs, be paid into such public fund or account as may be specified in the order.

(3) Any such order as aforesaid shall be laid before the Commons House of Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, but, nothwithstanding anything in subsection (4) of section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, shall be deemed not to be a statutory rule to which that section applies.

56 & 57 Vict. c. 66.

(4) Any such order as aforesaid imposing or increasing a charge shall cease to have effect on the expiration of the period of twenty-eight days beginning with the day on which the order is made, unless at some time before the expiration of that period it has been approved by a resolution of the Commons House of Parliament, without prejudice, however, to the validity of anything previously done under the order or to the making of a new order.

In reckoning any period of twenty-eight days for the purposes of this subsection, no account shall be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued, or during which the Commons House is adjourned for more than four days.

(5) Without prejudice to the preceding provisions of this section, any Defence Regulations may provide—

(a) for charging, in respect of the grant or issue of any licence, permit, certificate or other document for the purposes of the Regulations, such fee not exceeding five pounds as may be prescribed under the Regulations with the approval of the Treasury; and

(b) for imposing and recovering such charges as may be so prescribed in respect of any services which, in pursuance of such Regulations, are provided on behalf of His Majesty, or under arrangements made on behalf of His Majesty, other than services necessary for the performance of duties imposed by law upon the Crown; and all sums received by way of such fees or charges as aforesaid shall be paid into the Exchequer of the United Kingdom or, if the Treasury so direct, be paid into such public fund or account as they may determine.

Extra-territorial operation of Defence Regulations.

3.—(1) Unless the contrary intention appears therefrom, any provisions contained in, or having effect under, any Defence Regulation shall—

(a) in so far as they specifically impose prohibitions, restrictions or obligations in relation to ships, vessels or aircraft, or specifically authorise the doing of anything in relation to ships, vessels or aircraft, apply to all ships, vessels or aircraft in or over the United Kingdom and to all British ships or aircraft, not being Dominion ships or aircraft, wherever they may be; and

(b) in so far as they impose prohibitions, restrictions or obligations on persons, apply (subject to the preceding provisions of this subsection) to all persons in the United Kingdom and all persons on board any British ship or aircraft, not being a Dominion ship or aircraft, and to all other persons being British subjects except persons in any of the following countries or territories, that is to say,—

(i) a Dominion,

(ii) India, Burma and Southern Rhodesia,

(iii) any country or territory to which any provisions of this Act can be extended by Order in Council, and

(iv) any other country or territory, being a country or territory under His Majesty's protection or suzerainty;

Provided that Defence Regulations may make provision whereby the owner, manager or charterer of any British ship or aircraft, being a person resident in the United Kingdom or a corporation incorporated under the law of any part of the United Kingdom, is subjected to restrictions in respect of the employment of persons in any foreign country or territory in connection with the management of the ship or aircraft.

(2) In this section the expression "Dominion ship or aircraft" means a British ship or aircraft registered in a Dominion, not being a ship or aircraft for the time being placed at the disposal of, or chartered by or on behalf of, His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom; and, for the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, any ship or aircraft registered in India, Burma or Southern Rhodesia, not being a ship or aircraft for the time being placed at the disposal of, or chartered by or on behalf of, His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, shall be treated as if it were a Dominion ship or aircraft.

(3) Subsection (1) of this section shall apply in relation to British protected persons, as that subsection applies in relation to British subjects.

Provisions as to colonies, &c.

4.—(1) His Majesty may by Order in Council direct that the provisions of this Act other than this section shall extend, with such exceptions, adaptations and modifications, if any, as may be specified in the Order,—

(a) to the Isle of Man or any of the Channel Islands,

(b) to Newfoundland or any colony,

(c) to any British protectorate,

(d) to any territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations has been accepted by His Majesty, and is being exercised by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, and

(e) (to the extent of His Majesty's jurisdiction therein) to any other country or territory being a foreign country or territory in which for the time being His Majesty has jurisdiction; and, in particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the preceding provisions of this section, such an Order in Council may direct that any such authority as may be specified in the Order shall be substituted for His Majesty in Council as the authority empowered to make Defence Regulations for the country or territory in respect of which the Order is made.

(2) His Majesty may by Order in Council make, or authorise the making of, provision whereby persons offending against any Defence Regulations may be apprehended, tried and punished in the United Kingdom, or any of the countries or territories specified in the preceding subsection, whether section one of this Act extends to that country or territory or not.

Extra-territorial operation of defence legislation of certain Dominions, &c.

5.—(1) If and so far as the provisions of any Act for purposes of defence passed by the Parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia or by the Parliament of the Dominion of New Zealand purport to have extra-territorial operation as respects—

(a) ships or aircraft registered in the said Commonwealth or Dominion, or

(b) the employment of persons in relation to British ships or aircraft by owners, managers or charterers of such ships or aircraft who are persons resident in the said Commonwealth or Dominion or corporations incorporated under the law of the said Commonwealth or Dominion or any part thereof,

the said provisions shall be deemed to have such operation.

(2) No law made for purposes of defence by the Indian Legislature or the Federal Legislature of India or by the Legislature of Burma shall, on the ground that it would have extra-territorial operation, be deemed to be invalid in so far as it makes provision whereby any owner, manager, or charterer of a British ship or aircraft who is a person resident in India or Burma or a corporation incorporated under the law of India or Burma or any part thereof, is subjected to restrictions in respect of the employment of persons in relation to the ship or aircraft.

26 Geo. 5. c. 2.
26 Geo. 5. c. 3.

Nothing in this subsection shall be taken to prejudice the effect of section ninety-nine of the Government of India Act, 1935, or section thirty-three of the Government of Burma Act, 1935.

(3) If and so far as the provisions of any law for purposes of defence made by the Legislature of Southern Rhodesia purport to have extra-territorial operation as respects—

(a) aircraft registered in Southern Rhodesia, or

(b) the employment of persons in relation to British aircraft by owners, managers or charterers of such aircraft who are persons resident in Southern Rhodesia or corporations incorporated under the law of Southern Rhodesia,

the said provisions shall be deemed to have such operation.

Hearing of proceedidgs in camera.

6.—(1) If, as respects any proceedings before a court (whether instituted before or after the commencement of this Act), the court is satisfied that it is expedient, in the intersts of the public safety or the defence of the realm so to do, the court—

(a) may give directions that, throughout, or during any part of, the proceedings, such persons or classes of persons as the court may determine shall be excluded;

(b) may give directions prohibiting or restricting the disclosure of information with respect to the proceedings.

The powers conferred by this subsection shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any other powers which a court may have to give such directions as aforesaid.

(2) If any person contravenes any directions given by a court under the preceding subsection, then, without prejudice to the law relating to contempt of court, he shall be liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine, or, on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine.

10 & 11 Geo. 5. c. 75.

(3) The operation of subsection (4) of section eight of the Official Secrets, Act, 1920, shall be suspended during the continuance in force of this Act.

Proof of instruments.

7. Every document purporting to be an instrument made or issued by any Minister or other authority or person in pursuance of any provision contained in, or having effect under, Defence Regulations, and to be signed by or on behalf of the said Minister, authority or person, shall be received in evidence, and shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to be an instrument made or issued by that Minister, authority or person; and prima facie evidence of any such instrument as aforesaid may, in any legal proceedings (including arbitrations), be given by the production of a document purporting to be certified to be a true copy of the instrument by, or on behalf of, the Minister or other authority or person having power to make or issue the instrument.

Provisions as to certain Orders in Council.

8.—(1) Every Order in Council containing Defence Regulations shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after it is made; but, notwithstanding anything in subsection (4) of section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, such an Order shall be deemed not to be a statutory rule to which that section applies.

(2) If either House of Parliament, within the next twenty-eight days on which that House has sat after such an Order in Council as aforesaid is laid before it, resolves that the Order be annulled, the Order shall thereupon cease to have effect except as respects things previously done or omitted to be done, without prejudice, however, to the making of a new Order.

(3) Any power conferred by the preceding provisions of this Act to make an Order in Council shall be construed as including a power to vary or revoke the Order.

Saving of prerogative powers.

9. The powers conferred by or under this Act shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, the powers exercisable by virtue of the prerogative of the Crown.

Interpretation.

22 Geo. 5. c. 4.

10.—(1) In this Act the expression "Dominion" means any Dominion within the meaning of the Statute of Westminster, 1931, except Newfoundland, and includes any territory administered by His Majesty's Government in such a Dominion.

(2) References in this Act to British aircraft shall be construed as references to aircraft registered in any part of His Majesty's dominions, in any British protectorate or in any territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations has been accepted by His Majesty and is being exercised by the Government of any part of His Majesty's dominions.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that any reference in this Act to Defence Regulations includes a reference to regulations made under any provision of this Act, as extended to any country or territory by an Order in Council under this Act, and that any reference in this Act to any country or territory includes a reference to the territorial waters, if any, adjacent to that country or territory.

Duration of Act.

11.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, this Act shall continue in force for the period of one year beginning with the date of the passing of this Act, and shall then expire:

Provided that, if at any time while this Act is in force, an address is presented to His Majesty by each House of Parliament praying that this Act should be continued in force for a further period of one year from the time at which it would otherwise expire, His Majesty may by Order in Council direct that this Act shall continue in force for that further period.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in the preceding subsection, if His Majesty by Order in Council declares that the emergency that was the occasion of the passing of this Act has come to an end, this Act shall expire at the end of the day on which the Order is expressed to come into operation.

(3) The expiry of this Act shall not affect the operation thereof as respects things previously done or omitted to be done.

(a) any British protectorate,

(b) any territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations has been accepted by His Majesty, and is being exercised by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, in the Commonwealth of Australia or in the Dominion of New Zealand, and

(c) any other country or territory in which for the time being His Majesty has jurisdiction in matters of prize;

(3) Any commission or warrant for the purpose of commissioning or regulating the procedure of a prize court which has been issued before the commencement of this Act and is in force at the commencement of this Act, shall have effect as if any reference therein to ships included a reference to aircraft.

Certain courts declared to be prize courts. 53 & 54 Vict. c. 27.

(4) At any time during the period of the present emergency a soldier of the regular forces may, by order of the competent military authority, be released from army service; and, so long as the order remains in force, he shall be in the position in which he would be if no proclamation ordering the army reserve to be called out on permanent service were in force, and he had, at the time of the making of the order, been duly transferred to that reserve.

(c) may, on enlistment, be appointed without his consent to such corps as the competent military authority may determine;

and any order or regulations providing as aforesaid may be made to apply to men of the territorial army enlisted during the present period of embodiment, notwithstanding that they were enlisted before the coming into operation of the order or regulations.

(4) At any time during the present period of embodiment any officer or man belonging to an embodied part of the territorial army may, by order of the competent military authority, be released from the obligations which he is under by reason of the embodiment of that part of the territorial army; and, so long as the order remains in force, he shall be in the position in which he would be if that part of the territorial army were not embodied.

Any such order may be revoked by the competent military authority.

(5) On revoking an order under the last preceding subsection, the competent military authority may, if the person with respect to whom the order was made is still an officer or man of the territorial army, give directions requiring him to attend at the place and time fixed by those directions; and, for the purposes of section twenty of the Territorial and Reserve Forces Act, 1907, (which provides for the punishment of a person failing to appear at the time and place appointed for assembling on embodiment) those directions shall have effect as if they were directions under section seventeen of that Act directing the embodiment of a part of the territorial army to which that person belonged.

For the purposes of section fifteen of the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, as applied to the air force reserve, any such directions as aforesaid given with respect to any person shall have effect as if they were directions calling him out on permanent service in pursuance of a proclamation under section twelve of that Act, as so applied.

6.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the Territorial and Reserve Forces Act, 1907, as applied to the auxiliary air force, any embodied part of the auxiliary air force and any officer or man belonging to an embodied part thereof shall, during the present period of embodiment, be liable to be ordered to go out of, and liable to be carried out of, the United Kingdom. The auxiliary air force.

Any such order may be revoked by the competent air force authority.

(3) On revoking an order under the last preceding subsection, the competent air force authority may, if the person with respect to whom the order was made is still an officer or man of the auxiliary air force, give directions requiring him to attend at the place and time fixed by those directions; and for the purposes of section twenty of the Territorial and Reserve Forces Act, 1907, as applied to the auxiliary air force, those directions shall have effect as if they were directions under section seventeen of that Act, as so applied, directing the embodiment of a part of the auxiliary air force to which that person belonged.

(4) For the purposes of this section the expression "the present period of embodiment" means the period of embodiment of the auxiliary air force current at the date of the passing of this Act, or, if no such period is then current, the first period for which the auxiliary air force is embodied after that date.

(ii) received payment from an enemy of a sum of money due in respect of a transaction under which all obligations on the part of the person receiving payment had been performed before the commencement of the war by reason of which the person from whom the payment was received became an enemy.

(3) Any reference in this section to an enemy shall be construed as including a reference to a person acting on behalf of an enemy.

(4) A prosecution for an offence of trading with the enemy shall not be instituted in England or Northern Ireland except by, or with the consent of, the Director of Public Prosecutions or the Attorney General for Northern Ireland, as the case may be:

Provided that this subsection shall not prevent the arrest, or the issue or execution of a warrant for the arrest, of any person in respect of such an offence, or the remanding, in custody or on bail, of any person charged with such an offence, notwithstanding that the necessary consent to the institution of a prosecution for the offence has not been obtained.

Definition of enemy.

2.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the expression "enemy" for the purposes of this Act means—

(a) any State, or Sovereign of a State, at war with His Majesty,

(b) any individual resident in enemy territory,

(c) any body of persons (whether corporate or unincorporate) carrying on business in any place, if and so long as the body is controlled by a person who, under this section, is an enemy, or

(d) any body of persons constituted or incorporated in, or under the laws of, a State at war with His Majesty;

but does not include any person by reason only that he is an enemy subject.

(2) The Board of Trade may by order direct that any person specified in the order shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be, while so specified, an enemy.

Inspection and supervision of businesses.

3.—(1) The Board of Trade, if they think it expedient for securing compliance with section one of this Act so to do, may by written order authorise a specified person (hereafter in this section referred to as "an inspector") to inspect any books or documents belonging to, or under the control of, a person named in the order, and to require that person and any other person to give such information in his possession with respect to any business carried on by the named person as the inspector may demand, and for the purposes aforesaid to enter on any premises used for the purposes of that business.

(2) If, on a report made by an inspector as respects any business, it appears to the Board of Trade that it is expedient, for securing compliance with section one of this Act, that the business should be subject to supervision, the Board may appoint a person (hereafter in this section referred to as "a supervisor") to supervise the business, with such powers as the Board may determine.

(3) If any person, without reasonable cause, fails to produce for inspection, or furnish, to an inspector or a supervisor any document or information which he is duly requested by the inspector or supervisor so to produce or furnish, that person shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to both such fine and such imprisonment.

(4) If any person, with intent to evade the provisions of this section, destroys, mutilates or defaces any book or other document which an inspector or a supervisor is or may be authorised under this section to inspect, that person shall be liable—

(a) on conviction on indictment, to penal servitude for a term not exceeding five years or to a fine or to both such penal servitude and a fine, or

(b) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine.

4.—(1) No assignment of a chose in action made by or on behalf of an enemy shall, except with the sanction of the Treasury, be effective so as to confer on any person any rights or remedies in respect of the chose in action; and neither a transfer of a negotiable instrument by or on behalf of an enemy, nor any subsequent transfer thereof, shall, except with the sanction of the Treasury, be effective so as to confer any rights or remedies against any party to the instrument.

Transfer of negotiable instruments and choses in action by enemies.

(2) The preceding subsection shall apply in relation to any transfer of any coupon or other security transferable by delivery, not being a negotiable instrument, as it applies in relation to any assignment of a chose in action.

(3) If any person by payment or otherwise purports to discharge any liability from which he is relieved by this section, knowing the facts by virtue of which he is so relieved, he shall be deemed to have thereby traded with the enemy:

Provided that in any proceedings for an offence of trading with the enemy which are taken by virtue of this subsection it shall be a defence for the defendant to prove that at the time when he purported to discharge the liability in question he had reasonable grounds for believing that the liability was enforceable against him by order of a competent court, not being either a court having jurisdiction in the United Kingdom or a court of a State at war with His Majesty, and would be enforced against him by such an order.

(4) Where a claim in respect of a negotiable instrument or chose in action is made against any person who has reasonable cause to believe that, if he satisfied the claim, he would be thereby committing an offence of trading with the enemy, that person may pay into the High Court or Court of Session any sum which, but for the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, would be due in respect of the claim, and thereupon that sum shall, subject to rules of court, be dealt with according to any order of the court, and the payment shall for all purposes be a good discharge to that person.

(5) Nothing in this section shall apply to securities to which the next following section applies.

5.—(1) If—

Transfer and allotment of securities.

(a) any securities to which this section applies are transferred by or on behalf of an enemy, or

(b) any such securities, being securities issued by a company within the meaning of the Companies Act, 1929, or any corresponding enactment in force in Northern Ireland, are allotted or transferred to, or for the benefit of, an enemy subject without the consent of the Board of Trade;

19 & 20 Geo. 5. c. 23.

then, except with the sanction of the Board of Trade, the transferee or allottee shall not by virtue of the transfer or allotment, have any rights or remedies in respect of the securities; and no body corporate by whom the securities were issued or are managed shall take any cognisance of, or otherwise act upon, any such transfer except under the authority of the Board.

(2) No share warrants, stock certificates or bonds, being warrants, certificates or bonds payable to bearer, shall be issued in respect of any securities to which this section applies, being securities registered or inscribed in the name of an enemy or of a person acting on behalf of, or for the benefit of, an enemy.

(3) Any person who contravenes the provisions of this section shall be liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine.

(4) This section applies to the following securities, that is to say, annuities, stock, shares, bonds, debentures or debenture stock registered or inscribed in any register, branch register or other book kept in the United Kingdom.

Purchase of enemy currency.

6.—(1) Purchasing enemy currency shall be treated as trading with the enemy.

(2) In this section the expression "enemy currency" means any such notes or coins as circulate as currency in any area under the sovereignty of a Power with whom His Majesty is at war, not being an area in the occupation of His Majesty or of a Power allied with His Majesty, or any such other notes or coins as are for the time being declared by an order of the Treasury to be enemy currency.

Property of Enemies and Enemy Subjects.

Collection of enemy debts and custody of enemy property.

7.—(1) With a view to preventing the payment of money to enemies and of preserving enemy property in contemplation of arrangements to be made at the conclusion of peace, the Board of Trade may appoint custodians of enemy property for England, Scotland and Northern Ireland respectively, and may by order—

(a) require the payment to the prescribed custodian of money which would, but for the existence of a state of war, be payable to or for the benefit of a person who is an enemy, or which would, but for the provisions of section four or section five of this Act, be payable to any other person;

(b) vest in the prescribed custodian such enemy property as may be prescribed, or provide for, and regulate, the vesting in that custodian of such enemy property as may be prescribed;

(c) vest in the prescribed custodian the right to transfer such other enemy property as may be prescribed, being enemy property which has not been, and is not required by the order to be, vested in the custodian;

(d) confer and impose on the custodians and on any other person such rights, powers, duties and liabilities as may be prescribed as respects—

(i) property which has been, or is required to be, vested in a custodian by or under the order,

(ii) property of which the right of transfer has been, or is required to be, so vested,

(iii) any other enemy property which has not been, and is not required to be, so vested, or

(iv) money which has been, or is by the order required to be, paid to a custodian;

(e) require the payment of the prescribed fees to the custodians in respect of such matters as may be prescribed and regulate the collection of and accounting for such fees;

(f) require any person to furnish to the custodian such returns, accounts, and other information and to produce such documents, as the custodian considers necessary for the discharge of his functions under the order;

and any such order may contain such incidental and supplementary provisions as appear to the Board of Trade to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of the order.

(2) Where any requirement or direction with respect to any money or property is addressed to any person by a custodian and accompanied by a certificate of the custodian that the money or property is money or property to which an order under this section applies, the certificate shall be evidence of the facts stated therein, and if that person complies with the requirement or direction, he shall not be liable to any action or other legal proceeding by reason only of such compliance.

(3) Where, in pursuance of an order made under this section,—

(a) any money is paid to a custodian,

(b) any property, or the right to transfer any property, is vested in a custodian, or

(c) a direction is given to any person by a custodian in relation to any property which appears to the custodian to be property to which the order applies, neither the payment, vesting or direction nor any proceedings in consequence thereof shall be invalidated or affected by reason only that at a material time—

(i) some person who was or might have been interested in the money or property, and who was an enemy or an enemy subject, had died or had ceased to be an enemy or an enemy subject, or

(ii) some person who was so interested, and who was believed by the custodian to be an enemy or an enemy subject, was not an enemy or an enemy subject.

(4) Any order under this section shall have effect notwithstanding anything in any Act passed before this Act.

(5) If any person pays any debt, or deals with any property, to which any order under this section applies, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of the order, he shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine; and the payment or dealing shall be void.

(6) If any person, without reasonable cause, fails to produce or furnish, in accordance with the requirements of an order under this section, any document or information which he is required under the order to produce or furnish, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day on which the default continues.

(7) All fees received by any custodian by virtue of an order under this section shall be paid into the Exchequer of the United Kingdom.

(a) notwithstanding anything in subsection (6) of the said section or in any such order as aforesaid, any sum received by a Clearing Office by virtue of such an order, being—

(i) a sum which is so received at a time when the Sovereign Power of the country with respect to which the order has been made is at war with His Majesty, or

(ii) a sum which has been so received before the commencement of the war between that Power and His Majesty and has not, before the commencement of that war, ceased to be in the possession or under the control of the Clearing Office,

(b) any sum which a Clearing Office is required by paragraph (a) of this subsection to retain subject as aforesaid, shall, except in so far as it represents an overpayment made to the Clearing Office, be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be money which would, but for the existence of a state of war, be payable to or for the benefit of a person who is an enemy.

(2) There may be retained by a Clearing Office out of any sum which, by virtue of any order under this Act, is payable by that office to a custodian of enemy property such reasonable commission, not exceeding two per cent. of that sum, as the Treasury think fit; and the amount of any commission so retained by a Clearing Office shall be paid into the Exchequer of the United Kingdom.

All candidates must appear at the same paper examination.

7. Candidates practising in the courts of the Presidency, Rajshahi and Burdwan Divisions will be required to present themselves at the Bengal Engineering College; and those in Dacca and Chittagong Divisions and in Assam, at Dacca.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 15th September, 1939 :—

L. A. BILL No. 45 OF 1939.

A Bill to declare that properties of a Muslim dying intestate and without any heir devolve upon the Muslim Community.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen whether properties of an intestate owner dying without any heir should devolve upon the Muslim Community or be escheated to the Crown ;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to resolve such doubt ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, application and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Muslim Intestate Succession Act, 193 .

(2) It shall apply to the estate both moveable and immoveable of a Muslim subject to the Muslim law of succession dying intestate without any heir, and shall extend to the whole of British India.

Devolution of intestate estate.

2. Notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary the estate of a Muslim subject to the Muslim law of succession dying intestate without any heir shall devolve on the Muslim Community and shall not escheat to the Crown.

---

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the previous sanction required by section 67(2) (a) of the Government of India Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to provide that the estate of an intestate Muslim subject to the Muslim law dying without any heir shall devolve on the Muslim Community in accordance with the Shariat in preference to its escheating to the Crown.

This rule of common law is inapplicable to Muslims who are subject to their own law which provides for such a contingency.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 15th September, 1939:—

L. A. BILL No. 46 OF 1939.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is necessary and expedient further to amend the Criminal Law of kidnapping and abduction in India; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It shall apply to whole of British India.

Amendment of section 361, Act XLV of 1860.

2. In section 361 of the Indian Penal Code, for the words "under fourteen years of age if a male, or under sixteen years of age if a female," the words "under eighteen years of age" shall be substituted. XLV of 1860.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this amendment is to raise the age limit of a person, female as well as a male, in connection with the offence of kidnapping and abduction to under eighteen years, instead of the existing limit of under sixteen years and fourteen years in the case of a female and a male child respectively.

This reform is overdue. Experience shows that advantage is being taken of the weak intellect, immature judgment of minors, both male and female and their present day fancies and fantasies, to secure them for immoral and unlawful purposes. The age of majority, according to the provisions of the Majority Act of 1875, is eighteen years, and twenty-one, if the person is under a guardian appointed by courts. The Indian Penal Code has already been amended in cognate sections. In section 366-A, I.P.C., the age of a minor girl for the purpose of that section has been raised to under eighteen years. Now-a-days kidnapping and abduction of immature and less intelligent boys and girls has much increased. Therefore, there is no reason to make any distinction between the case of a male or a female child, as was formerly done.

In section 366-B, I.P.C., the age limit in the case of a girl has been raised to under eighteen years. In sections 372 and 373, I.P.C., which also deal with the moral ethics of persons, the age limit has been raised to under eighteen years. Lately some High Courts and recently the Judicial Commissioner of Sind in the "Mohini Alam Romance Case", have recognized the urgent need of this amendment.

(B) Algebra—The four Simple Rules, Proportion, Simple Equations, Greatest Common Measures, Least Common Multiple, Graphs of Simple Equations.

(C) Geometry—

Practical.

Bisection of angles and of straight lines.
Construction of perpendiculars to straight lines.
Construction of an angle equal to a given angle.
Construction of parallels to a given straight line.
Construction of triangles with given parts.
Division of a straight line into a given number of equal parts.
Construction of a parallelogram equal to a given triangle and having one of its angles equal to a given angle.
Construction of a triangle equal in area to a given rectilineal figure.
Construction of tangents to a circle.

Note.—Easy extensions of these constructions may be given as problems.

Candidates may be required to give the reasons for any particular construction involved in any question.

Every candidate is required to provide himself with the following:—

A hard pencil, dividers, pencil-compasses and a straight ruler showing centimetres and inches.

Theoretical.

Angles at a point.

If a straight line stands on another straight line, the sum of the two angles so formed is equal to two right angles; and the converse.

If two straight lines intersect, the vertically opposite angles are equal.

Parallel straight lines.

If a straight line, cutting two other straight lines, make—

(i) the alternate angles equal,

(ii) two corresponding angles equal,

(iii) the interior angles on the same side of the line supplementary, then the two straight lines are parallel; and the converse.

Straight lines which are parallel to the same straight line are parallel to one another.

Triangles and rectilineal figures.

The sum of the angles of a triangle is equal to two right-angles.

If the sides of a convex polygon are produced in order, the sum of the angles so formed is equal to four right-angles.

Two triangles are equal in every respect,

(i) if two sides and the included angle of one triangle are respectively equal to two sides and the included angle of the other.

(ii) if two angles and a side of the one triangle are respectively equal to two angles and the corresponding side of the other.

If two sides of a triangle are equal, the angles opposite to these sides are equal; and the converse.

Two triangles are equal in every respect, if the three sides of one triangle are respectively equal to the three sides of the other.

Two right-angled triangles are equal in every respect, if they have their hypotenuses equal, and one side of the one equal to one side of the other.

If two sides of a triangle are unequal, the greater side has the greater angle opposite to it; and the converse.

Any two sides of a triangle are together greater than the third.

Of all the straight lines that can be drawn to a given straight line form a given point outside it, the perpendicular is the shortest.

The opposite sides and angles of a parallelogram are equal: each diagonal bisects the parallelogram and the diagonals bisect one another.

If there are three or more parallel straight lines, and the intercepts made by them on any straight line that cuts them are equal, then the corresponding intercepts on any other straight line that cuts them are equal.

Areas.

Parallelograms on the same or equal bases and of the same altitude are equal in area.

Triangles on the same or equal bases and of the same altitude are equal in area.

Equal triangles on the same or equal bases are of the same altitude.

Illustrations and explanations of the geometrical theorems corresponding to the following algebraical identities:—

$$k(a+b+c+\ldots)=ka+kb+kc+\ldots$$

$$(a+b)^2=a(a+b)+b(a+b).$$

$$a(a+b)=a^2+ab.$$

$$(a+b)^2=a^2+2ab+b^2.$$

$$(a-b)^2=a^2-2ab+b^2.$$

$$a^2-b^2=(a+b)\ (a-b).$$

The square on one side of a triangle is greater than, equal to or less than the sum of the squares on the other two sides, according as the angle contained by these sides is obtuse, right or acute. The difference in the cases of inequality is twice the rectangle contained by one of the two sides and the projection on it of the other.

Loci.

The locus of a point which is equidistant from two fixed points is the perpendicular bisector of the straight line joining the two fixed points.

The locus of a point which is equidistant from two intersecting straight lines consists of the pair of straight lines which bisect the angles between the two given lines.

The Circle.

A straight line drawn from the centre of a circle to bisect a chord which is not a diameter, is at right angles to the chord: conversely, the perpendicular to a chord from the centre bisects the chord.

There is one circle, and one only, which passes through three given points not in a straight line.

In equal circles (or in the same circle),

(i) if two arcs subtend equal angles at the centre, they are equal,

In equal circles (or in the same circle),

(i) if two chords are equal, they cut off equal arcs,

(ii) conversely, if two arcs are equal, the chords of the arcs are equal.

Equal chords of a circle are equidistant from the centre; and the converse.

The tangent at any point of a circle is perpendicular to the radius through the point.

If two tangents are drawn to a circle from an external point,

(i) they are equal,

If two circles touch, the point of contact lies on the straight line through the centres.

The angle which an arc of a circle subtends at the centre is double that which it subtends at any point on the remaining part of the circumference.

Angles in the same segment of a circle are equal; and if the line joining two points subtends equal angles at two other points on the same side of it, the four points lie on a circle.

The angle in a semi-circle is a right angle; the angle in a segment greater than a semi-circle is less than a right angle; and the angle in a segment less than a semi-circle is greater than a right angle.

The opposite angles of any quadrilateral inscribed in a circle are supplementary; and the converse.

If a straight line touch a circle, and from the point of contact a chord be drawn, the angles which this chord makes with the tangent are equal to the angles in the alternate segments.

If two chords of a circle intersect either inside or outside the circle, the rectangle contained by the parts of the one is equal to the rectangle contained by the parts of the other.

Note.—Each question on Theoretical Geometry shall consist of a theorem contained in the above schedule together with an easy deduction.

Any proof of a proposition shall be accepted, which appears to the examiner to form part of a systematic treatment of the subject, but proofs of theorems, should, as far as possible, be based on first principles; the order in which the theorems are stated in the above schedule is not to be regarded as essential.

In the proof of theorems and deductions from them, it shall be permissible to use hypothetical constructions.

The ordinary symbolical abbreviations may be used.

Construction of regular figures of 3, 4, 5 and 6 sides in or about a given circle.

Construction of a square equal in area to a given rectangle.

Theoretical.

Proportion: Similar Triangles.

If a straight line is drawn parallel to one side of a triangle, the other two sides are divided proportionally: and the converse.

If two triangles are equiangular, their corresponding sides are proportional; and the converse.

If two triangles have one angle of the one equal to one angle of the other, and the sides about these equal angles proportional, the triangles are similar.

If a polygon is divided into triangles by a line joining a given point to its verticles, any similar polygon can be divided into corresponding similar triangles.

The ratio of the areas of two similar triangles or of two similar polygons, is equal to the ratio of the square on the corresponding sides.

The internal bisector of an angle of a triangle divides the opposite side internally in the ratio of the sides containing the angle; and likewise the external bisector externally.

Problems.

Bisection of angles, and straight lines.
Construction of perpendiculars to straight lines.
Construction of an angle equal to a given angle.
Construction of parallels to a given straight line.

Theorems.

If two sides of a triangle are unequal the greater side has the greater angle opposite to it; and the converse.

Any two sides of a triangle are together greater than the third.

Of all straight lines that can be drawn to a given straight line from a given point outside it, the perpendicular is the shortest.

When a straight line cuts two other straight lines, if—

(1) a pair of alternate angles are equal, or

(2) a pair of corresponding angles are equal, or

(3) a pair of interior angles on the same side of the cutting line are together equal to two right angles, then the straight lines are parallel; and the converse.

Straight lines which are parallel to the same straight line are parallel to one another.

The sum of the angles of a triangle is equal to two right angles; and the two corollaries thereto.

If two triangles have two angles of the one equal to two angles of the other, each to each, and also one side of the one equal to the corresponding side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two right-angled triangles have their hypotenuses equal and one other side of the one equal to one other side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

The opposite sides and angles of a parallelogram are equal, each diagonal bisects the parallelogram; and the diagonals bisect one another.

If there are three or more parallel straight lines and the intercepts made by them on any straight line that cuts them are equal, then the corresponding intercepts on any other straight line that cuts them are also equal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The primary object of this Bill is to secure to the grower a fair and steady price for his produce by adjusting as far as is practicable the supply of raw jute to the estimated world demand for jute and jute products in any given year. To achieve this it is proposed that powers be conferred upon Government to regulate in such manner and to such extent as may be necessary the total area of land upon which jute may be grown in Bengal.

Experience has shown that with unregulated cultivation of jute the supply of the raw material is often in excess of the demand with the result that prices fall so low as to be unremunerative to the grower. Prices also are often very unsteady and easily liable to manipulation to the detriment of the interests of the actual grower. To protect the grower and prevent wide fluctuations of the price of raw jute from season to season it is essential that a system of compulsory regulation be introduced.

The Bill accordingly provides in the first place for the making of a record of the land upon which every individual grower cultivated jute in any given year. This record is the essential basis upon which the proposed system of regulation by allotment of specific areas to each individual grower must be based.

The Bill further provides that Government may before the sowing season of any year commences declare, after due consideration of the position at the time regarding the supply and demand for jute and all matters pertinent thereto, that the area upon which the next crop may be sown shall be regulated and the extent of such regulation. Thereupon on the basis of the prepared record above referred to, allotment will be made to individual growers, through the agency of local Committees, of specific areas upon which under licence the cultivation of jute shall be permitted for the season about to commence In this manner it is proposed to control the supply of raw jute and to adjust it as far as possible to the anticipated demand for the year in question.

Draft by-laws.

1. Every case of sudden and unexplained death of an animal shall be immediately reported to the Commissioners for proper investigation as to the existence of anthrax within the municipal limits.

2. On receipt of such report the Commissioners shall at once order seizure of the carcass and arrange for its proper protection and also safeguard it from being bled or skinned or attacked by carnivorous animals or birds or otherwise interfered with whereby infection may spread. The Commissioners shall then immediately ask the local Veterinary Officer to examine the suspected carcass and the said officer shall thereupon without delay inspect the carcass and proceed to take all necessary steps to ascertain the cause of death, including microscopical examination of blood smears, three of which, air-dried, shall be despatched by him as soon as possible to the Superintendent, Veterinary Vaccine Section, for confirmation. The results of the findings of the Veterinary Officer shall be immediately reported verbally, and later, in writing by him to the Commissioners and also to the local Health Officer, if any.

3. The carcass of an animal known or suspected to have died of anthrax shall not be skinned, but the whole carcass shall be disposed of either by burning completely or by burial in lime. In the latter case the carcass shall be buried in quicklime at a depth of at least six feet below the ground level.

4. Whenever the removal of the carcass of an animal suspected to have died of anthrax to a place of disposal is decided upon, the removal shall be conducted under the strict supervision of the Health Officer or other competent officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf with due regard to measures necessary to prevent the spread of infection therefrom.

5. Every stable in which an animal has died of anthrax shall be thoroughly disinfected with suitable material. Such disinfection shall be carried out by means of Painter's blowlamp followed by a limewash. For limewash the Commissioners may require that four ounces of chloride of lime containing 33 per cent. of available chlorine should be mixed with every gallon of water.

6. The wool, fur or hair of animals known or suspected to have contracted anthrax, if already collected, shall be destroyed at once and the place or places where such materials were kept shall be thoroughly disinfected in the manner laid down in by-law 5.

7. When required by the Commissioners to do so for the prevention of the spread of anthrax, the owners or managers of tanneries or wollen mills shall not dispose of any trade waste or refuse from such tanneries or mills which has been exposed to infection or contagion except by burning, if possible, or otherwise after proper disinfection in the manner specified by the Commissioners.

For the above purpose a mixture of half a pint of commercial carbolic acid per gallon of waste water from tanneries may be used.

8. Whoever commits a breach of any of the preceding by-laws 1 to 7 (except by-law 2) shall be liable to a fine which may extend to Rs. 50.

A

further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; VIII of 1885. Ben. Act XIII of 1939.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Third Amendment) Act, 1939.

Amendment of section 26C of Act VIII of 1885.

2. In sub-section (5) of section 26C of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words "shall serve the notices provided in this section by registered post" the words "shall, in the prescribed manner, serve the notices for which this section provides" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 26G.

3. In section 26G of the said Act

(1) after sub section (1a) the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1b) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act or in any other law or in any contract, no mortgage (other than a complete usufructuary mortgage) entered into by an occupancy raiyat in respect of his holding or of a portion or share thereof after the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Third Amendment) Act, 1939, in which possession of land is delivered to the mortgagee, shall have any force or effect.";

(2) in sub-section (5)—

(a) for the words beginning with "to possession of" and ending with "restored thereto" the following words shall be substituted, namely:—

"to possession of the mortgaged property, and he may, if he is not forthwith given possession, apply to the Court or to a Revenue-officer to be restored to possession thereof and to be awarded such compensation as may appear to the Court or the Revenue officer to be equitable in respect of the period during which the mortgagee retained possession after the date on which the mortgagor became entitled to be restored to possession", and

(b) in the proviso, for the word "holding" the word "property" shall be substituted;

(3) in sub-section (6), for the words beginning with "in respect of the period" and ending with "decree of a Civil Court" the words "and may pass an order restoring possession of the mortgaged property to the mortgagor" shall be substituted; and

The Bengal Tenancy (Third Amendment) Bill, 1939.

(Clause 4.)

(9) Any person aggrieved by an order made under sub-section (6) may, within a period of three months from the date of such order, institute a suit in a Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the mortgaged property in respect of which such order was made.

(10) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act or in any other law or in any contract, the mortgagor may, in relation to a mortgage (other than a complete usufructuary mortgage) subsisting on the date of the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Third Amendment) Act, 1939, in which possession of land has been delivered to the mortgagee, institute a suit for a declaration that the original loan, together with all interest due thereon, has been extinguished by the profits arising during the period of the mortgage from the land in respect of which possession has been delivered, and for recovery of possession of the mortgaged property.

(11) In any suit instituted under sub-section (10), the Court may, if it thinks fit, re-open any transaction relating to the mortgage, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the mortgagee in possession has derived from the mortgaged property profits sufficient to extinguish the original loan, together with simple interest thereon calculated at the rate of eight per centum per annum, and may, until the contrary is proved, presume that possession of the mortgaged property by the mortgagee for a period of fifteen years has the effect of extinguishing the original loan, together with all interest due thereon.

(12) If the Court is satisfied that the original loan, together with all interest due thereon, has been extinguished by the profits arising during the period of the mortgage from the mortgaged property or by any other means, it shall make a declaration to this effect and shall pass a decree restoring possession of the mortgaged property to the mortgagor.

(13) If the Court is not so satisfied, it may fix any sum, not exceeding the principal amount of the original loan, on payment of which the mortgagor shall be entitled to redeem the mortgaged property, and may pass a decree accordingly, allowing the mortgagor a reasonable period within which to redeem the mortgaged property; and in any such decree the Court may further direct that, if the mortgaged property is not redeemed within such period, the mortgagee shall retain possession thereof for such further period of years as may be specified in the decree, and that, after the expiration of such further period, the original loan, together with all interest due thereon, shall be deemed to be extinguished and possession of the mortgaged property shall be restored to the mortgagor.

(14) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (15), the decision of the Court under sub-sections (12) and (13) shall be final.

(15) An appeal shall lie to the District Judge from any decree passed under sub-section (12) or sub-section (13), if presented within a period of three months from the date of such decree."

Amendment of section 52.

4. In sub-section (1B) of section 52 of the said Act after the words "on account of increase of area" the words "unless an equivalent reduction of rent on account of reduction of area has been granted in respect of one or more of the contiguous tenures or holdings" shall be added.

Insertion of new section 168A.

5. After section 168 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

"168A. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act, or in any other law, or in any contract—

Attachment and sale of tenure or holding for arrears of rent due thereon, and liability of purchasers thereof.

(a) a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of a tenure or holding or a certificate for such arrears signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, shall not be executed by the attachment and sale of any movable or immovable property other than the entire tenure or holding to which the decree or certificate relates ; Ben. Act III of 1913.

(b) the purchaser at a sale referred to in clause (a) shall be liable to pay to the decree-holder or certificate-holder the difference, if any, between the purchase price and the amount due under the decree or certificate together with the costs incurred in bringing the tenure or holding to sale.

(2) The holder of a decree or certificate for arrears of rent shall be entitled to apply to the Court by which the decree was passed, or to the Certificate-officer by whom the certificate was signed, to realize from the purchaser of the tenure or holding the sum referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (1), and thereupon the procedure for execution of a decree under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or of a certificate under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, as the case may be, shall apply. V of 1908.

(3) Nothing contained in the Court-fees Act, 1870, shall render the application referred to in sub-section (2) chargeable with any fee payable under that Act." VII of 1870.

Insertion of new section 174B.

6. After section 174A of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

"174B. (1) When the Court makes an order under rule 95 of Order XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or when a Certificate-officer makes an order under rule 75 of Schedule II to the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, for delivery of possession of immovable property comprising a tenure or holding which has been sold in execution of a decree or certificate for arrears of rent, the Court or the Certificate-officer, as the case may be shall simultaneously issue a notice to the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor calling upon him to show cause within fifteen days from the date of service of the said notice why an order should not be made prohibiting him from continuing in possession of, or from re-entering into, the said immovable property.

Prohibition of continued possession of, or re-entry into, immovable property sold in execution of decree or certificate for arrears of rent.

(2) If no cause is shown by the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor within the period of fifteen days specified in sub-section (1), the Court or Certificate-officer, as the case may be, shall make the prohibitory order referred to in that sub-section, and such order shall be served in the prescribed manner on the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor, as the case may be.

The Bengal Tenancy (Third Amendment) Bill, 1939.

(Clause 7.)

(3) If, within the period of fifteen days specified in sub-section (1), the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor shows cause that he intends, under any law for the time being in force, to take steps to set aside the decree for arrears of rent or the sale of the immovable property, the Court or Certificate-officer, as the case may be, shall direct him to take such steps within such period, not exceeding sixty days, as the Court or Certificate-officer may consider to be reasonable ; and if, within the said period, the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor fails to satisfy the Court or Certificate-officer, as the case may be, that he has taken such steps, the Court or Certificate-officer shall make the prohibitory order referred to in sub-section (1), and such order shall be served in the prescribed manner on the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor, as the case may be.

(4) If, within the period specified in sub-section (3), the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor satisfies the Court or Certificate-officer, as the case may be, that he has taken the steps referred to in that sub-section, the prohibitory order shall not be made unless the decree-holder or the certificate-holder satisfies the Court or the Certificate-officer, as the case may be, that the steps taken by the judgment-debtor or the certificate-debtor to set aside the decree or the sale have proved infructuous ; and the Court or Certificate-officer, if so satisfied, shall make the prohibitory order referred to in sub-section (1), and such order shall be served in the prescribed manner on the judgment-debtor or certificate-debtor, as the case may be.

(5) Disobedience of a prohibitory order made and served in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2), (3) or (4) shall be deemed to be an offence punishable with fine under section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and on a report by the decree-holder or certificate-holder that such an offence has been committed, the Court or Certificate-officer, as the case may be, shall enquire into the matter with a view to proceeding under section 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, if the Court or Certificate-officer considers that there are grounds for so proceeding." XLV of 1860. V of 1898.

Amendment of section 3 of Bengal Act XIII of 1939.

7. In clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939, for the words and figure " if a decree has been passed before the commencement of this Act in a suit under the said clause instituted on or after the twenty-seventh day of August, 1937" the words and figure " if a decree has been passed on or after the twenty-seventh day of August, 1937, and before the commencement of this Act in a suit under the said clause " shall be substituted. Ben. Act XIII of 1939.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. Preliminary.—In this Bill amendments are made to certain clauses of the Bengal Tenancy Act and certain additions to the Act are also proposed. For the sake of convenience the various proposals will be described in the order in which they occur in the existing Act. Amendments are proposed to sections 26C, 26G and section 52 while new provisions are proposed in sections 26G, 168A and 174B.

2. Clause 2.—Section 26C (5).—As at present drafted this section provides that notices of transfer of the holding of an occupancy raiyat shall be served by the Court, Revenue Officer or Registering Officer by registered post. This has proved administratively very difficult as many such notices are returned undelivered. It is therefore proposed to change section 26C(5) so that such transfer notices may be served according to rules framed by the Provincial Government.

3. Clause 3.—(i) Section 26G.—It is proposed to insert a sub-section (1b) in order to prohibit the alienation of lands by occupancy raiyats through kot kabalas or anomalous mortgages. The existing law as framed in 1928 [section 26G(1)] prohibits any form of usufructuary mortgage other than a complete usufructuary mortgage. This has been evaded by the execution of anomalous mortgages and kot kabalas and it is now proposed to prohibit any mortgage (other than a complete usufructuary mortgage) in which possession of land is delivered to the mortgagees.

(ii) It is also proposed to amend section 26G (5) to remove anomalies in the present drafting which have been noticed by the Courts. Under section 26G (5) the mortgagor is entitled to be restored possession after 15 years at the latest and if he is not so restored he may apply to the Civil Court or to a Revenue Officer to restore him. There is a proviso to this sub-section which says that if a usufructuary mortgage had already expired on the date the amending Act of 1938 came into force the mortgagor shall become entitled to possession at once but shall not be entitled to compensation for the period between the date of expiry of the mortgage-deed and the date of commencement of the Act.

There is no mention in sub-section (5) of compensation but in sub-section (6) it is mentioned that compensation may be awarded to the mortgagor for any period he has remained in occupation in excess of that to which he was legally entitled.

In order that the proviso to sub-section (5) may have full meaning it is desirable to delete this proviso from sub-section (6) and insert it in sub-section (5) instead.

(iii) It is also proposed to alter the word holding in sub-section (5) to property. In sub-sections (5) and (6) as at present drafted we have the following expression used indiscriminately with the same meaning—"usufructuary mortgage entered into in respect of a holding or portion or share thereof"; "mortgaged holdings"; "land mortgaged". The term "mortgaged holding" might be held not to include a portion or share of a holding and the word "land" is clearly unsatisfactory. The all inclusive phrase "mortgaged property" will prevent any difficulties of interpretation.

(iv) Section 26G (6).—This sub-section is merely the executive section consequent on sub-section (5) and in view of the addition proposed to sub-section (5) providing for compensation, mention of the period during which compensation may be awarded becomes redundant and is proposed to be omitted.

(v) It is proposed to change words "land mortgaged" in sub-section (6) to "mortgaged property" for the reasons given in sub-paragraph (iii) above and the last provision of the sub-section that "such order shall have the effect of a decree of a Civil Court" is proposed to be omitted for reasons which are explained in sub-paragraph (vi) below.

(vi) Section 26G (7), (8),(9).—It is proposed to insert these three new sub-sections in place of the concluding portion of existing 26G (6) which runs:—"and such order shall have the effect of a decree of a Civil Court". The High Court has found difficulty in deciding what the legal effect of these words is. They do not clearly indicate whether such an order is to be appealable and revisable under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code or whether the order is to be final and merely executable under those provisions. It is also not clear whether a Revenue Officer passing such an order is to be deemed to be a Court subordinate to the High Court for the purposes of section 115, Civil Procedure Code.

It is, therefore, proposed to provide that the orders either of a Civil Court or a Revenue Officer shall be final and enforceable as though they were Civil Court decrees but that any person aggrieved by such orders should be free to bring a regular civil suit within three months to challenge the decision. The object is to provide a cheap and easy remedy for the mass of cases about which there is expected to be no doubt or difficulty while not depriving anybody of the opportunity of full legal redress in cases of complexity.

(vii) Section 26G (10), (11), (12), (13), (14) and (15).—In 1928 a ban was placed by section 26G (1), on any usufructuary mortgage other than a complete usufructuary mortgage. Since that date, therefore, there have been no usufructuary mortgages executed, what have been executed in their place are anomalous mortgages and kot kabalas of which there must be enormous numbers. Some of these mortgages may have been unconscionable and, as it is now proposed to ban them for the future [vide sub-paragraph (i) above] it is thought that something should be done in order that existing mortgages of this kind can be reviewed if necessary. These sub-sections, therefore, provide that in the case of mortgages other than complete usufructuary mortgages in which possession of land has passed, the mortgagor shall be entitled to institute a suit for termination of the mortgage on proof that the original debt with simple interest at 8 per cent. has been extinguished by the profits arising from the land. The Court if it does not consider that the profits from the land have extinguished the loan with interest is given power to fix a sum of money representing the balance of the loan on payment of which the mortgagor would be entitled to re-enter into possession and also to fix a further term of years at the end of which the loan would be deemed to be repaid so that, if the mortgagor is unable to pay the amount settled by the Court, he will be able to re-enter into possession at the end of the period of time fixed by the Court.

4. Clause 4.—Section 52: By a recent amendment made by sub-section (2) of section 2 of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939 (Ben. Act XIII of 1939), sub-section (1B) was inserted in section 52 to the effect that no increase of rent is to be granted on account of increase of area of a tenure or holding if the definied boundaries are the same as they were at the inception of the tenancy. This provision may act unfairly in the case of gradual encroachment made by a tenant on his neighbours in which there is no proof forthcoming that there has been encroachment beyond the fact that one holding is larger than it was at the inception of the tenancy while contiguous holdings are smaller by an exactly similar area. In a case like this the tenants whose holdings are diminished will be entitled to a reduction of rent under section 52 and it is only right that in such a case the landlord should be able to obtain an increase of rent to balance the reduction of rent that he has had to give in respect of contiguous holdings.

It is, therefore, proposed to insert a provision that an increase of rent for increase of area may be given in cases when the boundaries have not changed if the landlord has granted an equivalent reduction of rent for decrease of area of one or more of the contiguous holdings.

5. Clause 7.—It is also proposed to amend section 3(1)(b) of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939. This Act amended section 52 in certain respects [including the insertion of sub-section (1B) mentioned above], and by section 3 which, as it was only of transitory application, was not incorporated in the Tenancy Act, it provided that if a decree had been passed before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939, in a suit under section 52 instituted on or after the 27th of August 1937 the suit might be re-opened and reheard under the provisions inserted by the Second Amendment Act, 1939. It is desired to make the Act slightly further retrospective so as to provide that any decree passed on or after the 27th August 1937 and before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939, shall be capable of being re-opened. This will mean that suits filed before the 27th of August 1937 can be reheard provided the decree was passed on or after the 27th of August 1937 and before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Second Amendment) Act, 1939.

6. Clause 5.—Section 168A.—It is proposed to insert this new section to provide that the only step that shall be taken in execution of a rent decree is to bring the entire tenure or holding to sale. It has been reported to Government that considerable harassment is caused to tenants by the sale of movables in execution of rent decrees and the sale of other property. The proposed new section will put a stop to this and it is not considered that it should act unfairly to landlords as, if the rent of the tenure or holding is reasonable, it should be by no means difficult to secure a bid at a Court sale which will cover the landlords' dues. In order to prevent collusion at sales it is proposed to provide that if the purchaser bids less than the amount due under the decree or certificate the property shall pass to him subject to a liability to pay the difference.

7. Clause 6.—This may still leave a situation where no bids are made at a Court sale on account of an anti-landlord combination in a whole village and the landlord is forced to buy khas and then finds himself unable to get actual possession of the land in spite of the Court's order. Enquiries which have been made, show that in many parts of the Province there exists a dishonest mentality among some tenants which leads them to ignore the processes of the Courts and, after the land has been purchased khas in execution of a rent decree, to remain in adverse possession for years without paying any rent. It is therefore proposed, partly to meet this situation (which is no new thing) and partly as a corollary to the new section 168A, to insert a new section 174B providing that, along with the order for delivery of possession to a decree-holder, the Court shall issue a notice calling on the judgment-debtor to show cause why an order should not issue prohibiting him from remaining in possession of the decretal property, disobedience of which would be punishable with fine only under section 188, I.P.C. (disobedience of an order of a public servant), on the complaint of the Court making the order. If the judgment-debtor in showing cause says that he intends to take legal action to set aside the decree or sale the Court will give him reasonable time within which to take such action, and if he does take action the issue of a prohibiting order will be stayed till the matter is decided and will only issue if the decision is against the judgment-debtor.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Owing to unrestricted competition amongst shop-keepers, particularly in the municipalities, the shops are kept open until unreasonable hours and shop assistants are called upon to attend in these shops for unlimited hours to the great detriment of their health. Government feel that a measure forbidding the transactions of business in shops after a certain hour will be welcome by shop-keepers and sellers, and will afford very necessary relief to the shop assistants. Provision, therefore, has been made in this Bill for closing the shops at 8 p.m. at night and for limiting the hours of work per week for a shop assistant. Further, every shop is required to close for a day and a half every week. Special provision has been made for commercial establishments and for restaurants and places of amusement.

Provision has also been made for sick leave and for payment of wages and payment of overtime.
